The investigators may be accompanied by representatives from the EPA, the Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation, or both.

Under Section 104(e) of the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980 (CERCLA), 42 U.S.C. 9604(e), the EPA may gain access to and request information from sites where:

- C Any hazardous substances, pollutants, or contaminants may have been released or are threatened to be released, or

Bruhn Point Landfill will be visited to determine the impact or potential impact of any hazardous substances that have been, are, or may be released to the environment at or from the facility or that may have migrated to the facility from another facility. The field investigators may:

- C Meet with the site owner or representatives on the date and time specified above.
- C Interview the site owner or representative to confirm existing information (i.e., address, total area, etc.)
- C Perform a site walk-through and visual inspection with the site owner or representative.
- C Take photographs of the site.

- C Collect all pertinent information including manifests, site maps, sampling results, etc., from the site owner or representative.

Findings will provide a basis for the EPA to determine whether any further action is appropriate at the site.

Koniag Inc. may assert a claim of confidentiality for any information entitled to protection under 40 CFR, Part 2, Subpart B. All confidential material must be separately submitted, marked "confidential," and include the basis of your claim. The EPA will treat such information as set forth in the cited subpart.

If you have any questions regarding our site visit, please contact me at (206) 624-9537 or Dave Bennett, at the EPA, (206) 553-2103. I will contact you approximately one week prior to our planned visit to re-confirm permission for site access and to talk further concerning site information.

Sincerely,
